Re: LASIK advertising violation; DOCTOR, M.D.

Dear Mr. Silverman,

I am writing to report LASIK advertising violations by DOCTOR, M.D. of CITY, STATE.

DOCTOR, M.D. is in violation of the Federal, Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act as it applies to false or misleading advertising of a restricted medical device (the laser used to perform LASIK) and consumer protection laws under Federal Trade Commission jurisdiction.

I am enclosing ___ pages printed from DOCTOR's website located at <http://www.DOMAINNAME.com>. As you can see, there are no warnings and no mention of precautions, side effects, and contraindications. The website content gives the impression that LASIK is risk-free, and implies life-long perfect vision.

DOCTOR, M.D. is endangering the public health through misleading LASIK advertising which fails to reveal facts about risks and adverse surgical effects.

I request that the FDA take immediate action to stop deceptive and misleading advertising of LASIK by DOCTOR, M.D., using all remedies available to the Agency.

Sincerely,

Your Name
